John Klafler Says Sulphur Springs Cave Has Three Entries

DURING THE MONDAY NIGHT meeting of the Shawnee Hills Recreation association at Shawneetown, John Klafler, Eldorado native and cave explorer, told of his findings in the cave near Sulphur Springs. He's been all through the place and it was announced he could act as a guide.

He said that the entrance, which has a low ceiling, leads out to three entries which have higher ceilings.

The main entry is the west one, he stated, adding that after about a quarter of a mile one comes up to a room "big enough to park a semi-trailer" where there is some clear quartz-like in pyramid form.

He said the main entry runs west for about four and a half miles.

The northwest entry, he continued, runs about three miles and into the main entry.

The south entry, he said, is carved in not too far from the entrance, but he had heard reports it ran for several miles.

Young Klafler suggested that no cave trips be made in the winter as a stream running through has too much water.

"You can wade it all right," he stated, "but I'd still suggest summer when the stream is dry."

Louis Aaron of Harrisburg, who is trying hard to get something done with historic Old Shawneetown, gave a talk telling how important it is for the SHRA to sell the people on its history.

He read the names of 25 famous persons who lived in Shawneetown, among them John and Samuel Marshall, Robert and Clark Ingerson, Norman F. Freeman, Mary Cunningham who wed John A. Logan, John E. Hall who made a welcoming speech to LaFayette which is a literary gem, Robert C. Slow, General Posey of Revolutionary War fame, Sarah Marshall who wrote the first novel ever written in Illinois and U. S. Senator John McLean.

"I doubt if any other place has had as many influential people," he commented.

Eisenhower and Dulles Plan Report to Nation

Council Will Wind Up Summit Talks Thursday

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
PARIS (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles probably will make a television and radio report to the American people shortly after they return to the United States from the NATO council meeting here, it was announced today.

The council will wind up its summit meetings Thursday and the President will take off for Washington at 11 a. m. c. s. t. Thursday, arriving early Friday morning.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty told reporters "considerable thought is being given" to an Eisenhower-Dulles report to the nation but it would not come before early next week.

The last such Eisenhower-Dulles report to the American people concerned U. S. policy in the Middle East and came at the time of the Suez Canal crisis.

The President approached the conclusion of the NATO summit meeting with sustained energy and interest. On top of Tuesday's busy schedule, he planned another full day.

He met for nearly an hour this morning with Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis and then had a conference with Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes.

Hagerty told reporters he did not yet know the President's Christmas plans beyond the fact that he will light the national Christmas tree on the ellipse south of the White House grounds next Monday.

Hagerty said the President was "feeling fine" again today and enjoyed the state dinner given by President Rene Coty of France Tuesday night. Coty invited the President back to lunch at Elysee Palace today.

The children were welcomed by Richard Davenport, president of the Kiwanis club, who expressed the club members' pleasure in having them as guests at the Christmas party.

The gifts were placed under a Christmas tree from where Santa distributed them to the children.

Group singing was led by Ronnie Doerge, with piano accompaniment by John Schork.

Mr. East thanked the Kiwanis club for its treat for the children. He told of activities at the Baptist home which is owned and operated by the Illinois Baptists and licensed by the State Welfare department. Planned activities this coming year include simultaneous vacations for the children and workers. During the past year vacations were spent in approved homes and some of the children were taken to a ball game in St. Louis and others visited the zoo at Evansville, Mr. East stated.

Only two of the children were unable to attend the party. One was a member of the basketball team which had a game last night and the other was a girl who played in the school band.

Special guests at last night's meeting included Lowden Pankey and the Rev. Joe Norman.

Father of Mrs. Ed Brantley Dies

Mrs. Ed Brantley, 311 West Poplar street, Harrisburg, has been called to Eddyville, Ky., for the funeral of her father, James Lester. Mr. Lester, a resident of Eddyville, Ky., died in a Paducah, Ky., hospital Tuesday. The funeral will be at Eddyville, Ky., Thursday.

Rep. Powell to Seek 13th Term

VIENNA, Ill. (UPI) — State Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna Democrat, has announced he will seek his 13th term in the Illinois House next year from the 59th District.

Powell served one term as speaker of the House and as minority leader three other terms.

GIVE SHIRTS OFF THEIR BACKS—Members of the Key club literally gave the shirts off their backs to aid less fortunate boys during an assembly program at the HTHS Tuesday morning. John Schork, HTHS faculty sponsor of the Key club, explained to the student body that the boys wanted to bring happiness to someone during the Christmas season and the "shirts off their backs" was decided on. The shirts will be laundered and carefully packed before being forwarded to Boys Town of Missouri. Mr. Schork started the ceremony by taking off his shirt and putting it on a table. Then, as the secretary called the roll, each Key club member came forward and "gave the shirt off his back." There are 23 members of the club. Mr. Schork, who led the assembly in the singing of Christmas carols at the start of the program, is in the center background. (Register Staff Photo)

They were the resignations of James Ford and Jess Hunsinger. Mayor Claud Gibbons presented the resignations, saying they had been turned in to him some time ago, the Ford resignation Sept. 19, the other Sept. 18.

The two were appointed at a council meeting July 18, at which time the council failed to agree on a board of police and fire commissioners, which has powers to appoint members of each department. No board of commissioners has ever been named.

He met for nearly an hour this morning with Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis and then had a conference with Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes.

WINNERS OF TROPHIES in the "Better Breakfast" poster contest sponsored in Saline county by the Saline County Farm Bureau received their awards during the Farm Bureau annual meeting Tuesday afternoon. The awards were made by Raymond Vinyard, left, organization director, to Rebecca Rodocker, third grade student at Carrier Mills, Marsha James, sixth grade student at Galatia, and Donna Bush, Galatia high school student. In lower photo, left, is Emmett Keim principal speaker at the annual meeting and L. B. Kimmel, Saline County Farm Adviser. (Register Staff Photos)

Farm Bureau Opposes Controls, Keim Says at County Meeting

The Farm Bureau is opposed to federal aid to education and believes there should be a movement underway in the direction of getting the federal government out of farming. Emmett R. Keim told those attending the 40th annual meeting of the Saline County Farm Bureau Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Keim of Belleville is District Organization Director for the Illinois Agriculture Association.

Mr. Keim was outlining some of the policies and resolutions adopted at recent meetings of the IAA and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

During the afternoon meeting, attended by a large crowd despite the bad weather, the Saline County Farm Bureau members heard reports from various officers and affiliates of the Farm Bureau, re-elected six directors, presented awards and were entertained by 4-H club members.

Re-elected to the board of directors were Eugene Lamkin, Harrisburg, C. P. Brown, Eldorado, Edward Harris, Galatia, Dr. T. H. Weight, Tate, Orval Gribble, Independence, R. L. Morris, Raleigh.

The board will meet the second Saturday in January to organize for the coming year. Present officers are: President, Ersel Vinyard; vice president, Orval Gribble; treasurer, Gene Lamkin, secretary, John C. Small.

Entertainment was furnished by Gerald DeNeal singing and playing the mandolin and the Stonefort 4-H club, both blue ribbon winners at the "Share the Fun" contest at the State fair.

The "Good Breakfast" poster contest, a contest designed to improve the diets and promote the sale of meat, had a number of entries and everyone making a poster received an award, with the three top winners — Donna Bush and Marsha James of Galatia and Rebecca Rodocker of Carrier Mills — receiving nice trophies.

Mr. Keim, who outlined the accomplishments of the IAA, stressed that the Farm Bureau had not gone on record requesting the federal government to "get out of farming" at once, but adopted a resolution there should be a move in the general direction of getting the government out of farming.

"We want to forget acreage allotments and give the farmers more freedom in the operation of his farm," the speaker declared.

In opposing federal aid to education, the speaker pointed out that it was the belief of the Farm Bureau that states and local communities could do a better job of financing schools than the federal government could.

The speaker was introduced by L. B. Kimmel, Saline county farm adviser. The meeting was called to order by President Vinyard, Rev. W. L. Cummins, pastor of the First Methodist church, gave the invocation, and Wayne Gidcumb, president of the Harrisburg Business Men's Organization, gave the address of welcome.

Also to Seek Big Four Talks With Russians

Full Agreement Submitted to Government Chiefs

PARIS (UPI) — The United States and its NATO Allies agreed unanimously today to strengthen the Atlantic alliance's defensive shield with American missiles and nuclear stockpiles in Europe. At the same time, they agreed to seek new Big Four talks with the Russians.

Full agreement on the entire summit conference agenda was hammered out by the foreign and defense ministers of the 15 NATO countries at a meeting this morning. It was then submitted for final endorsement by the heads of government at their third working session, which got underway at 11:10 a. m. c. s. t.

U. S. delegation sources hastened to stress that no "deal" was involved. They said the United States did not agree to new East-West talks merely to win the European members' acceptance of American missiles in the NATO defense shield.

The agreement still has to be spelled out in detail. But it constituted, in effect, a sweeping two-way plan for putting new vitality into the alliance. It will bolster the NATO group with every modern weapon in the West's arsenals while at the same time seeking new talks with Russia to end the East-West nuclear arms race.

The agreement came as the NATO conference, spurred by the United States' successful launching Tuesday of the Atlas missile, headed into the home stretch. The Military Agreement

The military phase of the agreement covered these main points:

—America's NATO Allies accepted in principle the U. S. offer of nuclear stockpiles and missile bases in Europe. But decisions on just where these would be established were left for further review by NATO defense chiefs and for bilateral negotiations between each country and the United States. In any case, the bases could not be ready for use for at least another 12 to 18 months.

—All 15 countries approved in principle a British plan for a balanced NATO force to which each nation would contribute what is best able to provide.

—They agreed on further integration of NATO armed forces, establishment of an integrated NATO air defense system in Europe, tighter concentration of their supply services and closer integration of their navies.

—They agreed to pool their scientific know-how in scientific committee of all 15 nations to be headed by a science counselor—in effect, the "science czar" of the whole NATO alliance.

The Political Agreements

On the political side, the agreement's main points were:

—A renewed appeal to the Soviets to permit a reunified Germany, coupled with a restatement of the West's determination to remain in Berlin as long as Germany is divided.

—A renewed offer to end nuclear tests and ban nuclear weapons, but only as part of an agreement with the Soviet for controlled worldwide nuclear disarmament.

—An agreement to make cautious new approaches to the Soviets on new East-West talks, possibly leading up to a Big Four foreign ministers conference in 1958.

Nonpartisan Probes

Editorial — By BRUCE BIASSET
Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson deserves the country's commendation for his insistence that the present Senate inquiry into our missile progress be scrupulously free of partisanship.

Lawmakers for the most part seek naturally to gain what partisan advantage they can from any congressional investigation.

When the blame should fall on both parties, the members of each try to stress the opposition's failures. When it belongs largely on one side, it takes a strong politician to resist the temptation to shout from the hilltops.

Johnson's idea is that the United States, if not the Democratic party, will best be served if the investigating committee devotes itself entirely to unearthing the facts, without giving them partisan coloring.

If the facts indicate that blame should fall here or there, in Johnson's view this will be clearly evident to the American public. But he is convinced that on so critical a matter as our standing in the missile race, the people would heartily disapprove the shallow quest for political advantage for its own sake.

Most Americans, if they could be heard from, probably would tell Johnson he is on the right track. On so great an issue as our security position, we must have confidence that we are being fully and accurately informed. We should not have to compensate heavily for political warping.

Let us all hope Johnson sticks to his resolve to avoid partisanship, no matter how powerful become the pressure of others on both sides of the political aisle who would convert so sober an inquiry into an election-year circus.

MR. AND MRS. FREDRICK SEIDLER, who were married at the First Baptist Mission on Nov. 30.

Miss Regina Shelton,
Fredrick Seidler Wed
At First Baptist Mission

Miss Regina Shelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Shelton, 128 West Sloar street, Harrisburg, and Fredrick Seidler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Seidler, were married in the First Baptist Mission at 7 o'clock in the evening of Nov. 30. Rev. Waldo Shelton, father of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and tall candelabras of burning tapers, flanking a wedding arch entwined with greenery.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a white ballerina-length wedding gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and a Peter-pan collar. Her long sleeves ended in points over the hands. Her veil was secured to a small white feather hat and she carried a bouquet of baby chrysanthemums tied with long blue ribbon streamers.

Lynda Pemberton, cousin of the bride, served as her maid of honor. Edd Seidler, twin brother of the bridegroom, acted as his best man.

Sammy Smith, Marion, cousin of the bride, Dickie Grammar, Carbondale, and Jimmie Ferril, St. Louis, Mo., were ushers.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a blue suit-dress and black and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a grey suit complemented with black accessories and her corsage was of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Marie Springs played the wedding marches and accompanied Bob Burnett who sang, "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

There was a reception immediately following the wedding, in the church parlors.

The three-tiered wedding cake held the place of honor at the bride's table and was decorated with pink sugar roses and doves and supported a miniature bride and groom. The table was white linen covered and pom-poms, lighted candles and greenery accented the beauty of the cake and crystal punch bowls.

Hostesses for the reception were Miss Mary Schwartz and Miss Linda Schatz, who served the cake, and Miss Peggy O'Neal, Miss Janis Norman and Miss Margaret Emmons, who poured and served the punch.

Out of town guests at the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Ross Pelhank, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bloodgood and daughters, Monroe City, Mo.; Jimmie and Hannah Ferril, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Seidler, Marion, brother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Leland Pemberton and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Sam

Christmas Party for Fidelis Sunday School Class Held

The Fidelis Sunday school class of the First Baptist church held its Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Olen Ingram, 605 East Poplar street, Harrisburg, Monday. There were 23 members attending and the house was festive with Christmas decorations throughout.

Mrs. O. L. Turner Jr. presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Paul Hays, teacher, opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. John F. Foster gave the devotion, "The Angel Who Refused to Pray."

There was an exchange of gifts during the social hour which followed. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. E. K. Gerhardt, Mrs. Bill Gall, Mrs. Robert Karnes and Mrs. Ed Bean.

Xi Beta Omega Chapter Meets For Christmas Dinner Party

Xi Beta Omega chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, met at 6:30 p. m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Gordon McGhee, 16 South Skaggs street, Harrisburg, for its Christmas party. This was a dinner which began with a fruit punch served by Mrs. Victor Humm, chapter president, and continued with ham and all of the supporting dishes that the competent food committee could imagine. Committee members were Mrs. McGhee, Mrs. Bob Partain, Mrs. Bill Keen and Mrs. John Utter.

Mrs. McGhee had created a veritable Christmas fairytale in her large living room. Three round tables were set up, covered with white linens and each place was marked with a red linen napkin on which a member's name had been embroidered in white. These, with basket nut cups were favors. Red candles and greenery centered the tables.

This was the night for revealing mystery pals and, as the members arrived, gaily colored Christmas packages overflowed the table on which a white sprayed cedar Christmas tree, decorated with red lights and red ornaments, stood. The mantel bore a nativity scene at one end and miniature Santa Claus with his sleigh and reindeer at the other. Red Christmas bells hung from the chandeliers and plants and Christmas ornaments were distributed throughout the house.

Mrs. Humm presided at a formal business meeting and Mrs. Charles D. Taylor, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes. Mrs. Bob Partain, treasurer, made her report and other chapter business was finished.

Mrs. John Schork, guest speaker, wearing a high style navy blue wool "sack dress," talked about fashions and illustrated her informal lecture with articles of clothing and accessories of the very latest trends.

Included in the showing was a blue velour wool fabric coat of navy blue, styled to the "Almond Look." In the spring, Mrs. Schork told the group, there will be a return to the 1929 type close fitting hats that hug the head and cover the hair.

There was a dress of cotton, so soft and sheer that it looked like finest silk. There was a dress of pure silk in a muted green print for resort wear now and into spring. Very lovely was a white satin-embroidered jeweled blouson and a white pleated wool skirt. A soft pastel blue spring

ENGAGED. Rev. and Mrs. Paul E. Dann, residents of Benton and formerly of Harrisburg, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marlene Dann, to Robert Sommers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Sommers, Benton. Plans are being made for a June wedding.

Indeed A Happy Birthday For Jess J. Moore

Rev. William Milligan, 14 East Dayton street, Harrisburg, united Mrs. Martha Blessings and James Potts in marriage in a quiet ceremony in the Milligan home, Monday at 10:30 a. m. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Partain and Mrs. Milligan were the only attendants at the wedding.

James Potts is a sergeant in the U. S. Air Force and will return to active duty soon. Mrs. Potts will remain with her mother, Mrs. Oma Potts, 405 East McMillan street, until her husband is assigned to a base.

Suit trimmed at collar and cuffs with detachable furs, was just the size for Norma Keen, who modeled it for the group.

Perhaps the most luxurious ensemble was of cashmere in beige and cocoa colors and included a sweater-blouse, cardigan, pure silk shirt-blouse and a straight skirt. This in the coordinated colors is adaptable to many combinations.

An exciting lounging black jersey blouse and velvet pajama with multicolored sequin trim in long lines, was something any woman would like to find under the Christmas tree. Red satin "Jester" slippers were shown with these.

Small gift items of jewelry and a fascinating bracelet with a miniature music box were shown and the inevitable flattery of softest sheerest lingerie.

When the gifts under the tree were presented to their owners, Mrs. Schork and a guest, Mary Louise Streich, were remembered by Santa Claus and received many charming gifts, also.

BEATS THE BEST OF THE LOW-PRICE THREE — FOR LESS MONEY!

Match this big, bold Chieftain against the top models of the "low-price three" and it takes them on all counts!

IT'S BIGGER—with a whopping 122" wheelbase cradling roomy stretch-out interiors. IT'S MORE POWERFUL—they all fall far short of Pontiac's jeweled-action Tempest 395 power.

IT'S MORE ADVANCED—bringing to the low-price field the boldest engineering in history: Aero-Frame stability . . . Quadra-Poise roadability . . . Circles-of-Steel safety. And Pontiac provides color-coordinated interiors and wall-to-wall carpeting as standard equipment.

IT'S MORE CAR—with scores of "extras" at no extra cost—oversize tires, Safety Plate Glass all around, crank-operated ventipanes, to name a few. So why buy a smaller car when Pontiac gives you more for less? Check into it and see.

Memoriam

In memory of Alice Hawkins, who passed away Dec. 18, 1943, 14 years ago:

Do not ask us how we miss her, For there is such a vacant place.

Often we think we hear her foot steps.

Or see her smiling face. Friends may think the wound is healed,

But they little know the sorrow That is in our heart concealed. Sadly missed by her daughters, Rachael and Mae. 145-1

Poetess, 80 on Dec. 23, Is First Woman Justice of Peace in Williamson County

MRS. LAURA QUINN, who will be 80 years old on Dec. 23, is Williamson county's first woman justice of the peace.

MARION, Ill. (UPI) — Mrs. Laura Quinn is a poetic justice.

She became the first woman justice of the peace in Williamson County history last month when friends wrote in her name in a township election.

The voters' expression was one of the nice's birthday presents she ever received, although it came a little early. Mrs. Quinn will be 80 on Dec. 23.

Mrs. Quinn has also achieved some fame as a poetess. She is listed in "Who's Who in Poetry in America" and one of her works appears in the book "Poets of the Prairie State."

A Long-Time Ambition

Born in Wayne County, Mrs. Quinn's family moved briefly to White County before traveling to Arkansas. She recalls coming back to Marion in a covered wagon when she was only 5.

Her election as a Democrat justice of the peace will fulfill a long-time ambition—now she'll be able to perform marriages. "I already have one couple on the waiting list," she said.

Her ambition "before I'll be ready to go" is to publish some of her many poems in book form.

Justice of the peace work will not be entirely new to Mrs. Quinn. She did the paper work for her late husband, Maud—"he was named after his mother's best friend"—who was a JP for 30 years, before his death 10 months ago.

"I wrote all his wedding speeches for him. He said the magic words and I was his 'ghost writer,'" Mrs. Quinn said.

KEEP TINY
For a happy, safer family holiday keep tiny objects away from small children.

A little child should never be given anything small enough for him to swallow. This includes parts of toys and hard Christmas candy. Also, he should be discouraged early from tinkering with festive decorations.

Toy manufacturers include many safety features in play items. But wise toy buying calls for some caution.

Be certain the toy has true, lasting colors and non-toxic paint is used. This is especially important with toys for young children, since youngsters like to put things in their mouths.

I made another call to Detroit, this time to the agency's office there. Oscar Gooding, head of the Detroit branch, was not in, but the girl told me that Lew Hancock, one of Oscar's full time men, was there. I said I would talk to Lew. When he came on, I said, "Hi, Lew. This is Jim Bennett."

"How are you, Jim? How're things in Cleveland?"

"Okay. Listen, Lew; I need some dope on a woman and two men, all Detroit residents. Got a pencil?"

"Yep. Shoot."

I gave him the names of Sandra Osterman, Hugo Howell and Ambrose Lott, told him what I knew about them, and added, "I don't think any of them has a police record, but check anyway. I'm particularly interested in the Osterman woman, but I'll appreciate anything you can dig up about any of them—anything at all."

He asked a couple of questions and then said, "All right, Jim. I'll take a while. Where are you?"

I told him and gave him the phone number of the Harbor House in Lakewood. "Time is important. When do you think you'll have something?"

"Maybe today yet. It's quiet here and I'll get right on it. If it drags out, I'll call you tomorrow."

"Fine. If I'm not here, leave a message and I'll call back."

"Right, Jim." He hung up.

I went back to the bar. Howell banged his fist on the bar and spoke to Otto in a loud rasping voice. "Two double ryes—quick."

Ambrose Lott leaned against the bar, his head lolling. I wondered if Howell had taken my advice about eating and sleeping. When I'd left him at noon he'd been staggering, but now he carried himself with an odd stiffness. Maybe he had stopped drinking and was now starting all over again, or maybe he hadn't stopped at all. With a man like Howell it was hard to tell.

There are other customers waiting to be served," Otto said, and then added, "Besides, I think you and your friend have had enough to drink."

"Why, you—" Howell began.

"Go ahead, Otto," the thin waitress said from where she'd been standing at the end of the bar. "I'll wait."

Otto hesitated, his lips compressed. Then silently he placed glasses before Howell and Ambrose Lott. He poured the whisky with a steady hand.

Howell glared at Otto a moment, and then said thickly, "You took your sweet time, didn't you?"

Otto stood very still, his face impassive, and watched Howell with a kind of cold deadliness. If raw, naked hate can show in a man's eyes, it showed in Otto's at that moment. I started to get out of the booth, but Chief Campbell's hand stopped me. I sat back. The room was suddenly very quiet. All the customers were watching the scene at the bar.

Suddenly Howell laughed, a thick unpleasant sound, and drank his whisky at one gulp. Ambrose Lott fumbled for his glass, but he was too far gone to lift it to his lips. The glass rolled over the bar, spilling its contents over his gray chalk-striped suit. Howell slammed his glass to the bar, and said insolently, "Two more, boy."

Presently, Howell walked to a side door and disappeared through it.

I left the booth and went up to

I said, "Don't let him bother you." "He can't talk to me like that," he said in a low intense voice. "No body can."

"Forget it. When you get time make me another martini. The chief will have a beer."

"Yes, sir," he said, jabbing with the ice pick.

Wayne Howell stood gazing around the room. He spotted me, and came back to our booth. The chief said, "Hello, son. Sit down."

He shook his head. "No, thanks, Mr. Campbell. I was looking for my father."

"He'll be back in a minute," I said, "but I'm afraid he's in no condition to talk to you."

He gazed at me silently, removed his thick-rimmed glasses and began to wipe them with a handkerchief. He was wearing a soft plaid shirt and gray flannel slacks.

the bar. This time the chief didn't stop me. Ambrose Lott stood there, rolling gently against the bar, his head down, seeing nothing. Otto was bending over, an ice pick in his fist, stabbing viciously at ice cubes which had frozen together in a refrigerator unit. He held the pick like a knife, and his knuckles were white. I said, "Re-lease, Otto."

He jerked his head up, his eyes hot with suppressed rage. When he saw me, his expression relaxed.

"Yep. Shoot."

Aunt of Local Woman Finds Rest of Family

MARION, Ill. (UPI)—A 70-year-old Oklahoma woman who has found the rest of her family after 50 years says, "It's going to be a wonderful Christmas."

Mrs. Ethel Price, Sand Springs, Oklahoma, is visiting in Marion, with her nephew, Brooks Warren, and his family.

The reunion came about through a letter Mrs. Price wrote a year ago to the postmaster in Marion. She wanted to know the whereabouts of her brother, Ezra Warren. She did not know that he had died in a mine accident in Springfield in 1928.

Postmaster J. P. Smothers referred the letter to Warren. He wrote telling his aunt about her other nieces and nephews.

Now she plans to visit all of them, Mrs. Marguerite Pearson, Harrisburg, Nell and Mayne Holman, Benton, and Everett Holman, Carbondale, plus a sister, Mrs. Z. A. Aubuchon, Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Price lives with a daughter, Mrs. Charles Bemrose.

She left Marion when she was a girl, and has lived in Oklahoma since the death of her husband, Charles Price, in Detroit three years ago.

The food was valued at $118, 516.

The counties and number of persons in each to which the food was distributed were:

State to Give Slight Relief on Tax Multipliers

Stratton Promises Some Reductions But Supports Boosts

SPRINGFIELD (UPI)—Gov. Stratton said Tuesday "slight reductions" will be made in the tax multipliers assigned to a few counties which have protested the higher multipliers given them by the state Revenue Department.

But the governor restated his support of the department in generally boosting multipliers for most counties and indicated there would be no general back-down from the higher multipliers.

The governor stated his position after meeting for nearly two hours with Revenue Director Richard J. Lyons. State Superintendent of Public Instruction Vernon L. Nickell also attended part of the conference.

Stratton said 14 counties so far have protested the multipliers assigned to them by the department and that about 12 of them have been granted hearings so far.

Protest Sweeps State

He said "about one third" of the counties heard so far have presented evidence to indicate the multipliers may be too high.

The governor did not identify these counties which likely will be granted a reduction.

A storm of protest has developed in many counties over higher multipliers assigned to bring local property assessments closer to actual value.

Across the state the multiplier increases have averaged about 10-12 per cent. This could mean similar increases in individual tax bills unless tax rates are reduced locally.

Stratton said that when all the protest hearings are completed "we'll be in a better position to find if there is supporting evidence to make some reductions."

"What we are interested in," he said, "is not higher taxes but a fairer division of taxes. Some counties have failed to live up to their assessment duties and want to make it up in state aid funds."

The governor said he was "very pleased" with the way the Revenue Department has proceeded with the protest hearings and the assignment of multipliers.

Boy Taunted by Sister, Kills Her With Rifle Shot

SOUTH BELOIT, Ill. (UPI)—Juvenile authorities today held a boy, 14, who they said admitted killing his sister with a rifle because she taunted him about watching girls on television.

Charles Beeler Jr. told authorities Tuesday he pointed a loaded 30-30 rifle at his sister, Theresa, 11, to "scare her" into stopping her teasing and then shot her.

"Will they send me to the electric chair?" Charles asked fearfully when taken to the Winnebago County jail in nearby Rockford. He was held overnight at the county juvenile detention home without charge for further questioning.

Theresa, whose body was pierced by the bullet, died en route to a Beloit, Wis., hospital.

Little Rock Negro Girl Suspended For Hurling Chili

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—One of the "Little Rock nine" who integrated the city's Central High School under the protection of paratroopers last fall was suspended Tuesday for throwing a bowl of chili at a white boy.

The Negro, Minnie Jean Brown, was suspended for three days by School Superintendent Virgil T. Blossom. Blossom said the girl "heaved" the bowl of chili at one boy, hitting him directly and spattering it on another.

The girl, contacted at her home later in the day, said she was "jostled against a chair, which caused me to drop my tray of food."

She said it fell into the lap of a boy sitting at one of the tables and spattered over the boy sitting next to him.

"The boys didn't act mad," Minnie said. She added she didn't even know the two boys' names.

A National Guardsman on duty in the cafeteria immediately took Minnie and the two boys to the office of School Principal Jess Mathews, the usual procedure for any kind of disturbance.

"I told them in the office it was an accident," the Negro girl said. "He (Mathews) said he would think it over and let us know what would happen.

"I went back to class and a few moments later was notified I had been suspended."

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP, said she was sure the incident was an accident, but that school officials felt they might as well go ahead and suspend her, giving them a chance to show the Negro students are not getting any special treatment.

Charles Beeler Jr. told authorities Tuesday he pointed a loaded 30-30 rifle at his sister, Theresa, 11, to "scare her" into stopping her teasing and then shot her.

"Will they send me to the electric chair?" Charles asked fearfully when taken to the Winnebago County jail in nearby Rockford. He was held overnight at the county juvenile detention home without charge for further questioning.

Benson to Cut Price Supports On Dairy Products

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today he will cut price supports on dairy products to the legal minimum of 75 per cent of parity for the marketing year starting April 1.

The new support levels will apply both to manufacturing milk and butterfat.

Present supports now are about 83 per cent of parity for manufacturing milk and about 80 per cent for butterfat.

Benson said the downward adjustments are equivalent to about 2 1/2 cents a pound for butter, 2 1/2 cents a pound for cheese, and 1/2 cent a quart for fluid milk.

He said a lower price to consumers would result in consumption of more milk and milk products.

Knicks, Hawks Win Pro Tilts

By United Press

The New York Knickerbockers reached the .500 mark in the National Basketball Association today for the first time since the season got underway.

Seven of the eight Knicks who got into the game scored in double figures Tuesday night in a 123-117 victory over the Syracuse Nationals in the windup of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader. The Western Division pace-setting St. Louis Hawks won the opener, 106-99, over the Detroit Pistons.

Ray Felix, Guy Sparrow and Kenny Sears scored 17 points between them to lead the New York offensive.

Dolph Schayes, who does his best scoring in the Garden, poured in 38 points for the Nationals. Johnny Kerr netted 28.

The victory gave the Knicks a 13-13 slate and moved them to within a half game of the second-place Nationals in the Eastern Division race.

Bob Pettit accounted for 36 points as the Hawks rang up their sixth straight win to widen their lead in the Western Division to six games over Cincinnati.

Locals Use Speed To Overcome Terrier Height In Non-Conference Tilt

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, using their speed to overcome Carbondale's height, defeated the Terriers, 59, at Carbondale Tuesday night to give themselves a mark of 4-3.

In conference play in the tough South Seven the locals are 0-2 but in contests outside the league they are 4-1. Last night's game was non-conference as Carbondale is a member of the Southwestern Egyptian league and is one of the top contenders.

Harrisburg had to play hard and fast to win. Besides height the Terriers have one of the finest players in southern Illinois in senior guard Jay Lovelace, a first class regular since his sophomore year. Lovelace, who made 37 points against Benton last weekend, was the game's high scorer last night with 23.

Balanced Attack

Coach John Dotson's locals, however, put forth a balanced attack that paid dividends, with four of the starters scoring in the double figures. Ray Hassett's 20 was high, followed by Ronnie Maynard's 17.

During the contest the teams played on practically even terms the first quarter, Harrisburg had the edge the second, Carbondale the third and Harrisburg a slight edge the last frame.

Players and fans alike were beset with numerous short power failures in the gym and a resulting scoreboard that did not give the time.

Score 29-23 at Half

First quarter saw Harrisburg run up a 7-3 lead only to have it chopped off and the Terriers go into a 13-12 advantage as the period ended.

The Bull Dogs, employing a fast break successfully, had a fine second quarter, running up ten points lead at 27-17 and 29-19. But Lloyd Sanford of Carbondale hit two straight in the closing seconds to make the count 29-23 at halftime.

Harrisburg stayed ahead of Carbondale all the second half but the Terriers hung on doggedly, not letting the Bull Dogs grab any comfortable margin.

The third period ended 40-38 and then came the fast and furious fourth quarter in which 44 points were scored, 23 by Harrisburg and 21 by Carbondale.

With two minutes to go Harrisburg was ahead 55-53, and during the rest of the contest Harrisburg

HTHS Freshmen Beat Carbondale

Harrisburg freshmen beat the Carbondale frosh, 63-56, in a basketball game in Davenport gym Monday night.

The locals, who led 13-10 at the quarter, 31-24 at halftime and 43-44 at the end of the third quarter, made 28 field goals to 18 for the opposition.

Henshaw was high for Harrisburg with 17 points. Other boys used by Coach Gene Bland were Lamb with 11, Karnes and Robertson with 10, Shelton with 7, Fox with 6, and Meier, Hill, Wirth and Abney, who did not enter into the scoring.

Taylor with 21 was high for Carbondale.

U. I. to Build Hall to Seat 18,000 Fans

CHICAGO (AP)—Plans to build a $7,500,000 multi-purpose assembly building which would seat 18,000 fans for basketball games were announced late Tuesday by the University of Illinois.

The building, which could seat 4,400 for theatrical performances and which also could be used for conventions, convocations, and other large group meetings, will be located in the area south of the Illini football stadium at Champaign.

There will be parking facilities for about 3,000 cars at the site with space nearby in present lots for 4,000 other automobiles.

Plans for the structure will be completed in June and construction was to begin next fall with completion scheduled for September, 1960.

The building, saucer shaped with a rounded roof, will be financed by a $20 per semester increase in student fees. The fund also will finance additions to the student union and the health service building as well as a new student services building.

mates Jones, Clifford and Drone also scored in double figures. Monroe, with 17, was tops for Shawneetown.

Following tonight's title tilt trophies will be awarded the championship and runnerup teams and the game ball will go to the winner of the consolation game.

Anthony Franc, Equality principal and tournament manager, stated this morning the school's parking lot was not ready for use as work had been held up by the inclement weather. He urged fans to park their autos on the roads and streets in the vicinity of the school.

Last night's session was witnessed by a near capacity crowd and another full-house is expected this evening.
